HEDONIST HARD TOP

HEDONIST HARD TOP

Hedonist embodies the very soul of Art of Kinetik. Blending enviable levels of comfort and refinement with daring looks and peerless performance, this 63 foot yacht epitomizes the genre. Its solid mahogany hull and Rolls Royce water jets combine to deliver a stealthily smooth ride even at speeds up to 40 knots. Aesthetics define every detail: no screws or plastic are visible anywhere. We believe Hedonist is the purest expression of art and technology imaginable.

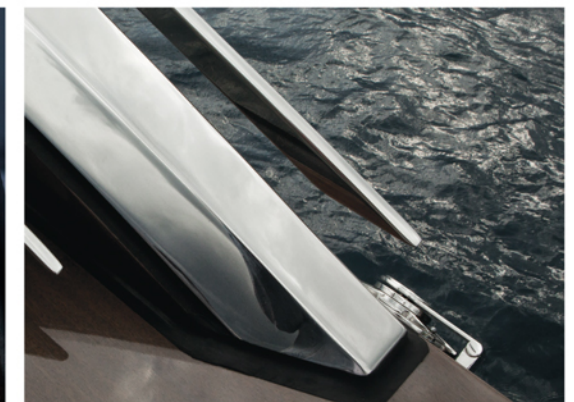

INTELLIGENT NAVIGATION

To answer the perennial question about form versus function, we fuse them together. Our masts are works of sculpture, their function is technological art. This advanced navigation and guidance system comprises four cameras (one with night vision), weather stations, radar, satellite compass and a suite of communications.

BESPOKE BÖNING® SYSTEMS

Böning has led the way in automated ship controls for over 30 years, specialising more recently in bespoke systems for luxury yachts. Art of Kinetik integrates a customised dashboard with high definition displays and a large touchscreen for real-time monitoring and effortless fly-by-wire control.

OPULENT INTERIOR

True beauty lies within. Although the exterior would challenge that notion, the inside is stunningly room-like. Created by Alv Kintscher, one of the world's leading interior designers, her choice of beautifully unconventional materials such as slate and American walnut enhances the unique experience.

UNIQUE PILOT'S CHAIR

The pilot's chair is at the core of this thrilling experience. Almost throne-like in its significance, it is a symbol of power and style. The design and engineering of ours took nine months to complete resulting in an ergonomic masterpiece capable of moving in all directions, fully-adjustable via a single switch.

THE ACHEULIAN HAND AXE

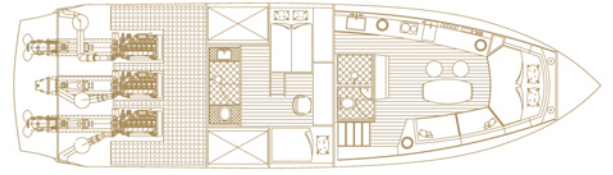

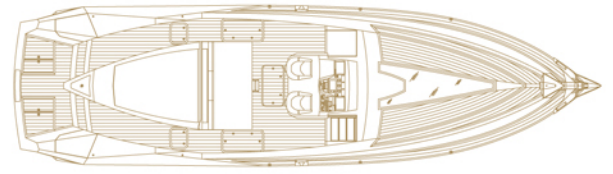

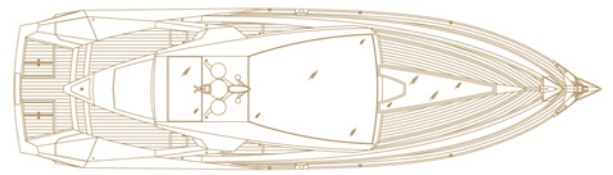

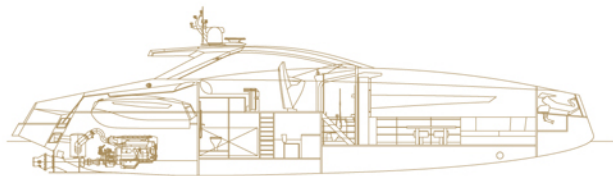

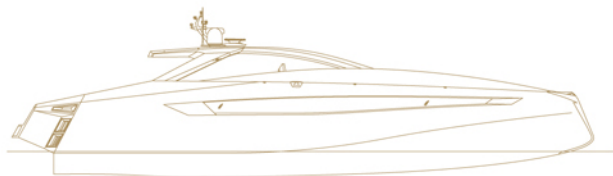

Discovered in the Olduvai Gorge in Kenya, is over a million and a half years old. In a world where tools might have been the most important things made, these qualities were sometimes brought to a perfection far beyond the needs of practicality. Craft, symmetry and elegance speak of pride in creation, pleasure in contemplation, prestige in possession.

THE SCULPTOR
HENRY MOORE
ONCE SAID:

"If an artist tries consciously to do something to others, it is to stretch their eyes, their thoughts, and to do something they would not see or feel if the artist had not done it. To achieve this, he has to stretch his own horizons first."

When we began creating our yachts, this maxim became the backbone of every single thing we did.
